

materials handling crates, corporate branding and RFID...

corporate branding...

For minimum orders of 500 crates we are able to offer our materials handling crate range with quality corporate branding in either screen print or hot stamp. This allows companies to permanently display their company logo and or contact details on their crates for impressive advertising or identification purposes. All our branding is done in house to make it as cost effective as possible and with minimal lead times.

custom colours...

For our material handling range A Plus Plastics have the ability to perfectly match any custom colour requirement you may have for a minimum order of 500 units.

RFID...

A Plus Plastics are also in the process of making available to their full range of crates, Radio Frequency Identification Devices (RFID). This new technology is widely used throughout Europe and is set to revolutionize storage and transportation in many industries. Contact A Plus Plastics for more information on RFID and how this can improve your business.
